For images from the Lunar Sourcebook, you can use them, but have to include a credit acknowledging LPI as the source. For example: "Credit: Lunar and Planetary Institute, Houston."

Dear Ms. Dotson,

Thanks a lot for the information. I will reach out to the authors to get the permissions. I also need copyright permissions to use two figures (Fig 4.22 page93; and Fig 9.19 page499) from the Lunar Sourcebook. I had a conversation with Cambridge University Press and they asked me to reach out to LPI to get permission to use these. What steps do I have to take to get the permissions to use the figures?

Thanks and Regards,

Hello!

You have to contact the first author of the abstract. Authors maintain copyright on the abstracts submitted to LPI-supported meetings; they merely give us permission to publish the abstract in meeting-related materials. Authors usually include their e-mail addresses in the affiliation box on the abstract.

Let me know if you have any other questions.

Hi,

Hope all is well!

I am a Ph.D. student at the Colorado School of Mines. I want to use a figure from an LPSC abstract (LPSC 2008, contr. 1355) in my dissertation. What permissions do I need to use the figure?

Thanks and Regards,
