Dear Shiqiang,

Congratulations on progress with your dissertation. You may use the paper as you indicate. However, we do not have a "final" Word document of your paper. You would need to do the conversion as we would for the PDF file. The Word document we have is only before layout and would lack any subsequent edits and changes made in proof. Also, it would not have placed figures and tables, which go to layout as separate files.

Best,
Alice

Dear Alice Bouley,

I'm a PhD candidate at CSM and I'm beginning to organize my dissertation.

I'd like to reach out to get permission to reprint my manuscript recently published by Economic Geology: "Huang, S., Song, Y., Zhou, L., Leach, D.L., Chang, Z. and Hou, Z., 2022. INFLUENCE OF ORGANIC MATTER ON Re-Os DATING OF SULFIDES: INSIGHTS FROM THE GIANT JINDING SEDIMENT-HOSTED Zn-Pb DEPOSIT, CHINA. Economic Geology, 117(4), pp.737-745."

In addition, I wonder if I can get a copy of the final version of the manuscript in Microsoft Word format from you?

Your help is greatly appreciated.
